We've Reinvented the Pencil

About us.

The Chattahoochee Pencil Company, a family owned business, launched April 2005 with the introduction of it's first product—the Chattahoochee Pencil.

The Chattahoochee Pencil is a graphite composite, presented in a novel shape. It's unique properties make it a great tool for builders and artists alike. Marks don't smudge or wash away, yet are erasable. It is very durable and will not easily break. You can paint over your marks without your paint picking up the pencil markings.

In case you are wondering about the shape of our product, it's a "C" for Chattahoochee Pencil. Its unique shape offers many options for the user; various points, shades, fat or thin lines, as well as an easy grip.

We're located in Atlanta, near the Chattahoochee River, which flows through much of Georgia. While the exact meaning of the word Chattahoochee is not known, it is believed that "chatta" means rock and "hoochee" means painted river, so our best translation is "river of painted rock."
